It is a matter which young people only learn too into, and then as a subject for life-long regret, that the head must leating clucation is that obtained after leaving school. The work of an ordinary school training an of an ordinary school training an of necessity only be preparatory, so far as practical usultiness is concerned, even when a high school diploma loss form A. Forking of Stamford, Conn., is visiting ther parents, Mr. and Mrs. when a high school diploma loss form A. Forking of West Park.

Misses Mary and Laura Smith, who crowned the work of years of study. A young man or young woman, leaving school at the age of 15 or 15, has everything to learn so far as the school of life is concerned. Those who are wise enough to recognize this give up all the spare time they can obtain to all the spirit must may can bount to acquiring either a business training or such ligher education as belits them to take a place in the learned professions. Or again, there are occupations in which Or again, there are occupations in which a practical knowledge of science, chemistry for example, is necessary, and yet again a knowledge of drawing—aut mere copying, but designing or model work—may be required.

These wants the new college and not approximation of the control of the contro al school, under the direction of Promal school, under the direction of Pro-figeor G. S. Ramsay, will seek to sup-ply. Mr. Ramsay comes from the terri-torial nuiversity of Albuquerque, Mr., and is not only a thorough business mus, but able to direct young men and women to the acquisition of really prac-tical instruction in post-graduate work, such as to fit them speedily for taking their part in the battle of life without a long and tedious apprenticeship.

THE FRESHO MORNING REPUBLICAN AN UNUSUAL DEFENSE

The Victor Divorce Case on Trial.

DEFENDANT DENIES MARRIAGE

They Lived Together Twenty-seven Years and Have Grandchildren-Value of Fronerty.

The divorce suit of Earbara Victor against Frank Victor was called for trial resterday in Judge Risley's court, and vitnesses were in attendance from Stockton to Hakerstield, but the majority of them come from Fowler where the parties to the action reside. The suit attracts much attention, not only from the wealth of the partles, but also because of the unusual line of defense which it is understood the defendant will follow.

The complaint filed when the action was brought sets forth that Barbara Vietor and Frank Vietor internatried twenty-coven years non, and have ever twenty-eaven years ago, and the ever since been busband and wife, had that they lived togother until February 18, 1895. They have two children, Yrank and Kate Vietor, both of whom at mar-ried and have children. The parise to this action lived a number of year on Roberts island in the Sun Jusquin rivr; but for ten years past have resided hear Powler. Mr. Victor's wealth is variously estimated from $15,000 to $35,000; the former estimate being his and the latter his wife's.

The ground on which the divorce is asked is that Mr. Vietor has treated har in a cruel and abusive manner. One of the specific acts of cruelty set forth is that on February 18th of this year be struck her, by using her left hand and siruck her, brusing her left hand and injuring her left ear see that she has not since heen able to hear well. She alleges habitual cruelty on his part, both by word and deed.

The defense is outlined in the answer which Mr. Visior makes to his wife's complaint. He denies that he and Mrs. Vietor were ever married; and he goes farther and states that there was a legal tacked on the horse of a marriers he. betacle in the way of a marriage between them. This obstacle was, as halleges, that she had and still has a hos hand living, from whom she has never been divorced, and for that reason she could not have married Victor. This husband's name is said to be Kuba. Mrs. Vistor had four children by her first husband, and these children con-

Victor assumed the relationship of hus-band and wife.

When placed on the stand yesterday elle denied that she and Vietor had never been married. She claimed not to have heard of her first husband in 27 years. She said he leit her, and about two months afterwards she and Victor iwo months alterwards she and Victor were at a dinner together, and Victor then told her that her hueland was lead. Acting on this information, which was all the information she had on the subject, she married Victor, as she claims. She did not say that any exemency selemnized the marriage, but that she and Victor agreed to be true this control of the work of the warried with the warried was the considered its numriace. till death. She considered it a marriage till death. She considered it a marriage by contract.

In her testimony the charged that where the deaten her so severely that she was confined to her bed for weeks. Severel witnesses were called during the afternoon, some of whom gave testimony in substantiation of Mrs. Vistor's externoon and other was and others concerning the statements, and others concerning the statements, and others concerning the value of the property. The property appears to be the chief bone of contention, and Judge Rielet suggested that it would be very difficult to prove the market value of real estate at the present time. The attorneys said show would try to come to an agreement known them estimated by the come to an agreement known them estimated by Evetts and Figs, and the defendant by F. E. Cook Short. The trial of the esses sumed this morning.

Henry Wilson Thought Justice St. John Prejudiced.

Sometime ago W. A. Spivey and Hours Wilson had a fight. Spivey swore out a warrant in Justice St. John's court for the arrest of Wilson for battery Wilson then threataned to have Spivey arrented. The latter went before the arroncol. The latter with the complaint against Wilson withdrawn, it being agreed between himself and Wilson that he latter would not have Spivey errestat if he would have the complaint dismissed. But Justice St. John would not consent to that manuer of settling breaches of the peace, and he said he would try the case against Wilson; so yesterlay through his attorneys, Thompson and Prince, the defaulant asked for a change of venue. He made an allifavit to the effect that he believed Justice St John was prejudiced against him, and could not give him a fair and impartial reial The case was accordingly trans ferred to Justice Austin's court
